Ban on rough sleeping, drinking and begging

• Banning begging, rough sleeping and drinking on the streets will make the centre safer for everyone believes Cllr Tony Illot

By Samantha McGregor

AN order to stop begging, rough sleeping and people drinking alcohol on the streets of Banbury town centre has been approved.

Cherwell District Council agreed to implement the order after a public consultation "showed overwhelming support for the proposals" it said.

The move comes after complaints from shoppers and traders about incidents of antisocial behaviour in the town.

Cherwell council said it held a five-week public consultation which showed 90 per cent of respondents supported proposals to tackle antisocial drinking, while 84 per cent and 79 per cent endorsed proposals to stop begging

Life in jail for paedophile who abused two-year-old

By George Welch

A PREDATORY paedophile who showed no remorse after he filmed himself abusing a two-year-old has been jailed for life.

Rapist Daniel Kilbee, 35 of Bradstocks Way, Sutton Courtenay, will serve a minimum of 10 years for dozens of sexual offences over an 18-year period.

Kilbee was convicted of 30 sexual offences, including rape and making indecent images of children, between 1997 and 2016 in August and was sentenced at Oxford Crown Court on Tuesday.

During two trials in July and August the paedophile was found guilty of sexual assault and sexual activity with a child.

At a five-day trial in July, he was found guilty of indecent assault against a girl under 16 between May 1997 and May 1998, sexual activity with a girl under 13 between August 1999 and August 2000 and two counts of indecency with a girl under 16 between December 2002 and December 2004.

At the same hearing in July, predator Kilbee pleaded guilty to two counts of rape, and one count of sexual assault of a woman in her 20s between August 2011 and October 2011. He also pleaded guilty to six counts of making indecent images of children in February 2015.

At a second trial in August, Kilbee admitted offences against a two-year-old girl, between December 2012 and March 2013.

This included three counts of rape of a child under the age of 13, two counts of inciting or causing a child to engage in sexual activity, one count of attempted rape and three counts of assault of a child under 13 by penetration.

Kilbee will also sign the sex offenders' register for life.

Investigating officer Det Con Tania Wasilewski-Norman of the Child Investigation Unit said: "Kilbee is a prolific predatory paedophile who is ready to blame everyone for his actions apart from himself.

"He has shown no remorse for his victims and has been aggressive towards police throughout.

"He is manipulative and has shown this throughout the trial by stating he is going to plead to charges but only on his terms, and by the fact that he has targeted the most vulnerable in society and made them think that he was doing nothing wrong."

DC Wasilewski-Norman added that her 'biggest relief' was that certain victims did not have to give evidence in the trial and that a jury would not have to watch the videos of the two-year-old girl being raped by Kilbee.

• Daniel Kilbee

Helena Burman, senior crown prosecutor for Thames and Chiltern Crown Prosecution Service (CPS), said: "Daniel Kilbee preyed on the young girls, befriended them and sexually abused them for his own sexual gratification.

"The offences committed against the helpless two-year-old girl were truly horrific.

"Despite some of the sexual activity being consensual, three of the young girls were under the legal age of consent and he was fully aware of that.

"Due to their age, they were in absolutely no position to give true and free consent to the sexual acts.

"Time has not diminished the effect the incidents have had on the life of the victims. The emotional impact, on the victims and their families, of the actions of this man is impossible to quantify. I hope that the convictions and sentence give some small comfort to them.

"Our thoughts are very much with them all at this time."

Schoolgirl 'not abducted', but rape still being investigated

THE reported abduction of a 14-year-old-girl in Summertown two months ago did not happen.

After weeks of gathering evidence, Thames Valley Police has confirmed that no abduction took place.

The 14-year-old girl reported that she was taken from the street while walking to school in the area of Marston Ferry Road and Banbury Road by two men in a silver car at around 8.25am, and then raped.

But police have confirmed that the evidence gathered indicates that the reported abduction did not take place.

The Major Crime Unit has carried out a thorough review of the evidence including CCTV, dash-cam footage and witness statements.

The force is continuing its investigation into the rape against the girl.

Specially trained officers and staff from the police, Oxfordshire County Council Children's Services, health and other agencies continue to work with the victim, at her pace.

Local police commander for Oxford city, Supt Joe Kidman, said: "This incident has understandably caused a great deal of community concern.

"The safety advice I have issued with Oxfordshire County Council is good general safety advice, and a common sense approach should be applied at parents and carers discretion.

"Attacks such as initially reported are mercifully rare and will always be treated extremely seriously and thoroughly investigated.

"Working with vulnerable and young victims is an extremely complex and lengthy process and it is paramount that they are protected appropriately."

News Bites

Dramatic rescue

The 3am crash on Saturday left the car hanging on its side, held in place by a tree embedded in the rear passenger compartment via the roof.

Vicious burglary

OXFORD: Police are appealing for witnesses following an aggravated burglary in Barton.

At around 7.20pm on Saturday November 5, two men wearing masks forced entry into a property in Burchester Avenue.

Using a knife, one threatened the resident in his bed, demanding money before punching him. The second offender pushed over a woman in the property.

Fire destroys pub

OXFORD: A derelict pub in Old Marston has been destroyed in an arson attack.

It took 30 firefighters to extinguish the blaze at the former Jack Russell pub on Salford Road from 11.28pm on Saturday where the building sustained significant damage. No one was injured, although there were signs people had been inside shortly before the fire.

Horton protestors to take fight to Oxford city centre

By Samantha McGregor

HORTON Hospital campaigners are taking their protest over cuts to the streets of Oxford to gather support.

Members of Keep the Horton General (KTHG)will be boarding their 'battle bus' once again on Saturday.

Campaigners say they will be in Oxford city centre from 10am to 2.30pm handing out leaflets spelling out how changes at Banbury's Horton Hospital will affect people living in the city.

KTHG members are also set to highlight issues surrounding the 'Sustainability and Transformation Plan', by Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (OUHT) to review health services across the county.

KTHG Chairman Keith Strangwood said: "The purpose of our event is two pronged. We will be informing the public about the damage that is being inflicted on local services by the Oxford University Hospitals Foundation Trust and Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group. Simultaneously the NHS nationally is being threatened by Simon Stevens' draconian proposals, via STP, for swingeing cuts across the board.

"We are very fortunate to have supporters who care not only about their local hospital but hospitals across the land.

"They are giving up their time on Saturday to inform and communicate with Oxford's Christmas shoppers. I am proud of every one of them."

In August OUHT suspended consultant-led maternity services and the special care baby unit at Banbury's Horton Hospital.

The trust said it made the decision because it had problems recruiting "middle-grade" doctors at the hospital.

Last month KTHG campaigners took their 'battle bus' to London where more than 40 members of the group handed in a 20,000 signature petition at Downing Street opposing the move to downgrade maternity services.

• Horton Hospital campaigners make their feelings known about the cuts

The group then joined other protestors from around the country in a national rally against the government's proposed cuts across the NHS.

North Oxfordshire MP Victoria Prentis presened her first Ten Minute Rule Motion to the House on the subject of the hospital last month.

She lobbied Parliament to introduce a law forcing the need for public consultation over changes to local NHS services and raised concerns about the way the decision was taken.

The Bill is expected to have its second reading in parliament on Friday, January 27.

Rubble reused for estate roads

WORK to demolish a multi-storey car park in Banbury has been completed – and the rubble from the site is being recycled to form roads on a new housing estate.

Bolton Road carpark, owned by Cherwell District Council, was closed earlier this year because of structural concerns. Demolition work started at the site in September.

Since then contractors Armac Group have demolished the five-storey structure generating about 4,800 tonnes of rubble which will be used to form the basis of new roads at the Longford Park development in Bodicote.

Once the rubble has been removed, the site will be levelled and painted to provide a temporary surface car park of 145 spaces, which is due to open in December.

Cllr George Reynolds, Cherwell's deputy leader, said: "Despite the scale of the project, the contractors have done a fantastic job of demolishing this structure quickly but safely and we remain on course to have parking in place in time for Christmas.

"Although this demolition does signify the end of the multi-storey, it does represent a new beginning for the residents of Longford Park where the rubble will be used to create new roads."

Bolton Road is identified in Cherwell's Local Plan as a key site for development to potentially incorporate a hotel, housing, retail and restaurants.

Drinking ban will make town centre safer for everyone

Cllr Tony Ilott, Cherwell's lead member for public protection, said: "The purpose of this order isn't to punish people; it's about making Banbury town centre a safe, welcome and pleasant area for everyone.

"People of all ages should be able to visit any part of the town at any time of the day without feeling intimidated, pressurised into giving money or at risk from the behaviour of others.

"As it stands, there is a small population of people contravening these values."

The order covers the town centre, stretching from Cherwell Drive and Castle Quay canalside to the north, to Gatteridge Street and Britannia Road to the south.

The boundary will reach as far as Bridge Street Park to the east and People's Park to the west.

Anyone who breaches the order could face a fixed penalty notice of £100 or a fine of up to £1,000.

Mr Ilott said: "We have people travelling into the area pretending to be homeless to prey on the generosity of kind hearted shoppers, and hotspots of antisocial behaviour fuelled by alcohol and drugs which put the public at risk through discarded needles, broken glass and drunken antics.

"None of this is acceptable and we don't see why the majority of residents should suffer at the hands of the minority.

"It's important to stress this order doesn't come at the expense of our other services; it's still of paramount importance to support and help those in genuine need and we will continue to work with our partners to do just that. But those who refuse will no longer be allowed to act in a manner that has a negative impact on the town or those who are trying to live, work or shop there."

Three years for baby killer who forgot daughter in bath

By George Welch

A MUM whose baby drowned after she abandoned her in an adult bath and forgot about her will spend three years behind bars.

A jury at Oxford Crown Court took less than two hours to convict Jasmine Gregory, 24 of Ulfgar Road, Oxford, on Wednesday last week.

Gregory said she was 'distracted' and 'forgot' about Robyn, and started doing the washing up.

When she remembered about Robyn up to 10 minutes after leaving her, she ran outside shouting 'where's my baby?' before running upstairs and scooping Robyn's body out of the bath.

Witnesses described hearing Gregory scream 'I've killed my baby' before helping to rush Robyn to a nearby GP for help.

Robyn was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford but was pronounced dead at 3.30pm.

• Jasmine Gregory, 24, has been sentenced to three years in jail

The court heard Gregory was using cannabis at 13, drinking at 14, pregnant at 16, and alcohol dependent by 18.

Investigating officer Det Con Andy Matheson, from the Child Abuse Investigation Unit based in Cowley, said: "This has been a tragic case from the start.

"A young mother has lost her young baby and the extended family have lost the future they would have had with the child.

"Jasmine Gregory has never given a full account to police or others of what happened that day and so this has meant Robyn's extended family – grandparents, aunts and uncles and cousins – will never really know what led to her death."

Kirsty Allman, senior crown prosecutor for Thames and Chiltern Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) said: "This was a tragic waste of life and one which could have been avoided.

"This was not merely a terrible accident; Gregory was clearly negligent in leaving Robyn unattended in the bath.

"A just outcome has been achieved for baby Robyn.

"I hope that the conviction and sentence will in some way help her family come to terms with this tragic event. Our thoughts are very much with them at this time."

She added that Gregory initially admitted to witnesses at the scene to leaving her baby in the bath and being responsible for her death, but later replied 'no comment' to police interviews and denied manslaughter.

She was found guilty despite her denials.

> "Gregory was clearly negligent in leaving Robyn unattended..."

Robyn was the 'brightest button'

A STATEMENT read out in court from Robyn's paternal grandmother, Theresa Andrews, described Robyn as their "beautiful angel" and said her family would never be able to forgive Gregory.

She said: "She was so precious, we used to call her 'treasure'. She lit up the room, always smiling. She was the brightest button."

Ms Andrews added: "Our hearts have been broken. Every day is torture. We do not live any more, just get through the day as best we can."

Hours before Robyn died, a visiting support worker told Gregory not to leave her daughter alone in the bath.

A foster parent had previously told social services she saw Gregory leave another baby alone in a bath.

The week before her death, Robyn, who had only just started walking, also fell down some stairs.

Prosecutor Oliver Saxby QC said: "We are looking at a pattern of careless parenting."

Gregory told consultant psychiatrist Michael Alcock she had two pints of cider the day Robyn died but that she was not drunk.

Dr Alcock told the court on Monday last week he had diagnosed Gregory with an emotionally unstable personality disorder when he assessed her on May 17 this year.

He also said it is a 'credible explanation' to why she forgot about her little girl.

Gregory chose not to give evidence in the case herself.

Crackdown on drivers using mobile phones

POLICE are staging a nationwide crackdown on drivers using their mobile phones behind the wheel this week.

Thames Valley Police has joined the campaign following the sentencing of lorry driver Tomasz Kroker last month.

Kroker had been distracted by his phone when he caused an eight-vehicle crash on the A34 near East Ilsley in Berkshire, in which 45-year-old Tracy Houghton, her two sons Ethan, 13, and Josh, 11, and her stepdaughter Aimee Goldsmith, 11.

The campaign began on Monday and is the second of the year, after a previous one in May saw 319 people caught using their phones while driving in the Thames Valley.

Road safety sergeant Chris Appleby said: "Using a mobile phone while driving is one of the fatal four offences and causes deaths on our roads.

"Last month Tomasz Kroker was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment after he killed a mother and three children, having failed to stop his vehicle on the A34 because he was changing music on his mobile phone while driving.

"The result was horrific and serves as a sobering warning to all drivers that using a handheld device while driving can kill."

Fears for patients as medical centre sold off for £500k

By Alex Iszatt

• Marston Medical Centre, which is due to close, has been sold

MARSTON Medical Centre in Cherwell Drive has been sold to the highest bidder, sparking a local councillor's concern for patients.

The 2,581 sq ft property went on the market last week at a guide price of £500,000 - and closed bids for it ended at midnight on Monday.

Following the imminent closure of the medical centre, almost 5,000 patients will be displaced and have to seek treatment elsewhere.

Independent councillor Mick Haines described the situation as 'scandalous'.

In July, the surgery merged with Bury Knowle Health Centre in London Road, Headington, but Cllr Haines believes it is too far away for some residents to get to.

He said: "Marston needs a medical centre, people's concerns should come first. Older residents won't be able to travel to get to other centres."

Joint sellers VSL and Partnerts and Benedicts surveyors said there had been a high level of interest.

Cllr Haines said: "Marston is being ignored, we do need more houses but we need more infrastructure and that includes a doctor's surgery."

The Oxfordshire CCG said: "The practice now plans to offer patients care at a new location in a modern facility a few streets away, with the additional choice of patients being seen at three other convenient locations in the Headington area."

'Quick thinking' saves Great Hall

STUDENTS and staff were evacuated from Christ Church after a fire broke out in the dining hall.

The 16th-century building caught fire at about 1.05pm on Saturday, which was caused by an electrical fault on a hot plate in the serving area of The Great Hall.

Four Oxfordshire County Council Fire and Rescue Service fire appliances from Abingdon, Kidlington, Rewley Road and The Slade attended to extinguish the fire.

The swift actions of college staff to evacuate the area and call the fire service prevented a serious escalation of the fire at the building.

Incident commander Paul Webster said: "The quick thinking of the college staff, whose procedures ensured everyone was evacuated safely and the quick response from the fire and rescue service helped to reduce the impact of the fire on the premises and mitigated damage to the historic building."

The fire crews wore breathing apparatus and used hose reels and ventilation fans to bring the incident under control and prevent further damage.

It is believed the fire was put out shortly before 2pm.

Calf rescued

OXFORD: A distressed calf was rescued from the River Thames by fire crews on Saturday.

The firefighters from The Slade, Rewley Road and a specialist rescue team from Kidlington Fire Station attended the scene near Donnington Bridge Road just after 10am.

They entered the water and used animal slings to lead the calf to the safety of nearby land where it was checked by the RSPCA prior to being reunited with the herd.

Family saved

OXFORD: A mum, son and dog were saved by firefighters from a house fire in Headington.

Fire crews from The Slade, Rewley Road and Kidlington fire stations attended the blaze in Weyland Road at 8.54am on Saturday.

Two firefighters rescued the mother, a child and a dog from the house before the fire was extinguished using a high pressure hose reel which limited the fire damage to the living room.

Thames Valley Police also attended the incident and the victims were treated by British Red Cross Emergency Support volunteers.

The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

40 firefighters tackle huge blaze at thatched cottage

By George Welch

ABOUT 40 firefighters tackled a blaze at a thatched cottage in Chilson near Ascott-under-Wychwood on Monday night.

Eight fire engines, a rescue vehicle with chainsaws to cut the thatch and an aerial ladder platform were required as the Oxfordshire County Council Fire and Rescue Service tackled the chimney fire on Pudlicote Lane at 4.50pm.

Fire crews from Charlbury, Witney, Hook Norton, Eynsham, Banbury, Woodstock, Kidlington, Bicester, Bampton, Burford, Abingdon, Oxford, Goring, and Stow-on-the-Wold fire stations all attended the fire.

A spokesperson said crews carried out "salvage work to save items from inside the property and stop the fire from spreading to adjoining houses".

No one was injured in the blaze.

Enterprises given a £32k boost thanks to Lottery fund

ALMOST £33,200 has been given to four enterprises in Oxfordshire to help them grow and improve their communities.

The Big Lottery Fund money comes from the National Lottery.

Swindon Panel Society, based in Didcot, received almost £6,500 to explain the role of signalling in rail and passenger safety and promote its new visitor exhibition.

The Happy Hub in Wallingford was given £6,700 to equip and furnish the playrooms at the local children's centre.

Both Mabel Prichard School in Blackbird Leys, Oxford, and Chinnor Parish Council both also received £10,000 each.

The school in Cuddesdon Way will use the funding to provide play therapy sessions for pupils with severe, profound and multiple learning difficulties and provide training for staff.

Amanda Makoka, assistant headteacher, originally applied for funding after she saw first-hand the benefits of play therapy.

She said: "I saw how the amazing therapy could benefit us. We couldn't afford a full-time therapist but using the funds we could get in therapists to help the students as well as train staff using their techniques."

Although the staff will not become therapists, if they wanted to train further the school would support them.

Therapists from the charity Clear Sky are already at the school, looking after 12 pupils.

Ms Makoka, who has already seen a difference, said: "Every child that's had therapy has improved, whether it is their behaviour, well being or anxiety levels. The students love it."

As Chinnor expands, the parish council needed £30,000 to help develop a neighbourhood plan. Having received some funds from the council and more than £6,000 from the community, they asked for £10,000 and received the full amount.

The neighbourhood plan project is being run by volunteers.

One of them, Peter Brook, said the money would help "speed up the process to develop a neighbourhood plan that gives residents a say in how the community develops".

Victims rescued

• The scene of the accident

OXON: Two seriously injured people were trapped in their car after an accident left the vehicle wedged on its side against a tree.

The crash happened on the A34 between Milton and Abingdon at 7.44pm on Friday, when the car left the road and rolled down an embankment.

Firefighters used specialist rescue and cutting equipment to free the pair who were taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, by air ambulance.

Heart man saved

OXFORD: A man was saved after a heart attack in Oxford's High Street on Saturday.

A medically-trained fire crew from The Slade was returning from another call at 2.40pm when they were flagged down by members of the public.

They gave CPR to the man and were then assisted by South Central Ambulance Service. The man was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital and is in a stable condition.

News Bites

M40 driver dies

OXON: A 61-year-old man was killed when his Vauxhall Vectra collided with a barrier along the hard shoulder of the M40 at about 7.50am on Saturday.

Members of the emergency services attended the incident, but the driver, who was the only person involved, died at the scene of the crash between junctions 8a and 9. His next of kin has been informed.

The motorway was closed in the northbound direction while Roads Policing officers investigated the circumstances and reopened by 9.45am. Contact police on 101 with information.

Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue Service has reminded all drivers to take extra care on the roads as the weather changes.

Service collapse

CHIPPING NORTON: A man collapsed during a remembrance service in Chipping Norton on Sunday.

The man, who fell to the ground during the ceremony's two-minute silence, was given first aid by the Oxfordshire County Council firefighters before an ambulance crew from South Central Ambulance Service took over care of him.

Lawyer warns firms over gender pay gap

By George Welch

AN OXFORD-BASED employment lawyer has called on businesses to do their bit to close the gender gap.

Law firm Blake Morgan has warned employers to make sure they do not get caught out by having unfair pay practices as the laws are tightened up.

The average hourly pay of a full-time female worker is £12.82, compared to £14.16 for men, according to the Office for National Statistics' 2016 Survey of Hours and Earnings.

James Simpson, an employment lawyer for the law firm, said: "Although it's clear that little progress has been made on this issue over several decades, changes to the law and public pressure will undoubtedly begin to have an effect in the next few years, and employers should not leave themselves open to be singled out with outdated and unfair pay practices."

The Small Business, Enterprise and Employment Act 2015 means employers with 250 or more employees must publish information about their gender pay gap on their websites.

The rules are to be rolled out to large employers in the public sector by the end of this year, with a planned commencement date of April 2017 and a requirement to publish the first reports before April 2018.

And a Government-sponsored website will be launched with the intention of monitoring the worst performing employers and sectors.

Statistics show the average female worker in the UK earns 13.9 per cent less than her male counterpart – based on the mean average for full-time employees.

This translates to 86.1p for every £1 a man earns.

It means that, relative to men, women are essentially not paid a penny for 50 days of the year.

Mr Simpson warned that the issue was coming to the fore in both the private and public sectors.

He added: "As well as the imminent changes to legislation, recent cases also show that the threat of equal pay claims is not just an issue for the public sector as it has been in the past.

"Seven thousand female employees of Asda have just been given permission to compare their jobs and pay with male staff at the retail giant's distribution centres, in a case that reportedly could cost Asda £100 million if the claimants are successful."

Mr Simpson urged businesses to carry out a 'dummy run' Equal Pay Audit ahead of the legislation's implementation, so that any issues could be ironed out before the information is published.

"Leaving it too late could well catch some businesses out," he added.

MP hits out at delay to health consultation

WANTAGE MP Ed Vaizey has hit out at a further delay in health bosses revealing how community hospitals in Oxfordshire could be affected by cuts.

Mr Vaizey described the decision to postpone a consultation, which will affect the future of Wantage Community Hospital, until May 2017 as 'closure by stealth'.

Health chiefs are attempting to tackle a forecasted £200m funding gap by 2020.

The consultation, originally promised for the autumn, had already been delayed until the end of 2015.

The Oxfordshire Healthcare Transformation Consultation is to be split in two phases. The first will begin in January, looking at services such as A&E and GPs, while the second will focus on community hospitals in May.

Mr Vaizey said: "The inpatients department at Wantage Community Hospital will have been shut for almost a year before the consultation has even started.

"This seems like closure by stealth, the longer the service is closed down the less likely it is to be opened again."

He said the minister for care and support had joined him in urging Oxford Health to start the consultation.

Remembering the fallen heroes

By George Welch

YOUNG and old lined the streets of towns across Oxfordshire to pay their respects to the nation's war dead on Sunday.

Many gathered along the Broadway in Didcot as soldiers marched past in solemn remembrance.

As the nation remembers its war dead, Historic England has announced that 68 memorials across the south east, including 10 in Oxfordshire, have been listed.

The majority, built by communities in the years following the First World War, are listed as Grade II and are part of the conservation group's work to protect 2,500 memorials by 2018.

Many war memorials aren't protected by listing and Historic England needs the public's help to recognise these monuments to make sure those they commemorate aren't forgotten.

Individuals, communities and even schoolchildren from across the region have already got involved by getting their local war memorial listed.

The memorials in the county which have been awarded Grade II listed status are those in Henton in Chinnor parish; Chinnor; Langford in West Oxfordshire; Bloxham; Northbourne in Didcot; Summertown; Kidlington and hamlets; Drayton and Eaton Hastings.

Roger Bowdler, director of listing at Historic England, said: "Researching, recording and recommending up to 2,500 more war memorials for listing over the next five years is a major task but one that Historic England is proud to undertake. These memorials will gain a place on the National Heritage List for England to tell the story of this country's sacrifice and struggle."

It is all part of a wider partnership Historic England have forged with the War Memorials Trust, Civic Voice and the Imperial War Museums to help communities discover, care for and conserve their local war memorials.

Working with enthusiastic volunteers across the country, the programme is providing up to £2million in grants for war memorial repair and conservation and hundreds of workshops to teach people how to record their memorials and put them forward for listing.

The goal is to see that as many war memorials as possible are in a fitting condition for the centenary of the end of the First World War.

Members of the public are invited to put forward war memorials for consideration by going to historicengland.org.uk.

Crowds turn out to remember heroes

By Samantha McGregor

HUNDREDS of men, women and children took part in Remembrance Day parades on Sunday in Bicester and Banbury.

They included serving soldiers, veterans, cadets, representatives of both the town's clubs and societies, police, firefighters and paramedics.

In Banbury the civic procession included mayor Gordon Ross, Oxfordshire's Deputy Lieutenant Sir Tony Baldry, Cherwell District Council chairman Chris Heath, town clerk Mark Recchia and town councillors.

Twenty Royal British Legion bikers followed the marchers.

Dunkirk veterans from Birmingham were again part of the parade. They have been coming to Banbury since 2002 when their coach broke down as they were travelling to London for the Whitehall ceremony.

They were towed into Banbury, took part in that year's parade and have been coming ever since.

In Bicester, two minutes' silence was held at St Edburg's Church before dozens of wreaths were laid at the war memorial in the churchyard.

A service of remembrance took place in the church followed by a parade from the church and around Market Square where the mayor Jolanta Lis and other dignitaries took the salute.

Police appeal for man on recall to prison

BANBURY: Police are re-appealing for information on the whereabouts of David French, 32, who is wanted on recall to prison.

French was last seen on July 15 in Edmunds Road, Banbury.

He is described as white, 5ft 10ins tall, of broad build with cropped brown hair and has a birthmark on the left side of his neck.

PC Nathan Davis, of Banbury Local CID, said: "He is known to frequent the Banbury area and also has links to Basingstoke and Milton Keynes so I would also appeal to anyone in these areas to report any possible sightings of David."

Anyone with any information regarding French's whereabouts should call police on 101 quoting URN 1289 29/7 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Pub fined £9,000

BANBURY: The Swan Pub Banbury Ltd and its director Alan O'Donovan have been ordered to pay £9,200 for "failing to provide suitable fire safety arrangements for members of the public" at its premises in South Bar Street.

Oxfordshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service brought the case. It said Mr O'Donovan, the company director and Swan Pub Banbury Ltd, admitted three charges at Oxford Magistrates' Court on November 1.

£11m slip roads open onto A34

By George Welch

NEW slip roads at the Chilton Interchange have opened following an £11m and 13-month project.

Oxfordshire County Council transport chiefs say the new slip roads will ease congestion on the A34 and at the Milton Interchange and will vastly improve access to the Harwell Campus, which is set to see a significant rise in employment.

Both the Southbound entry slip and Northbound exit slip opened on Thursday last week.

The new routes at Chilton will enhance the accessibility of jobs in the Science Vale area because commuters will be able to stay on the A34 rather than exit at the Milton Interchange.

The new slip roads also provide an easier route to the A34 for local residents.

Nigel Tipple, Chief Executive of Oxfordshire Local Enterprise Partnership said: "We are pleased to see the completion of the Chilton slip road which will benefit both businesses and the community, providing solid foundations for housing and employment growth in the area.

"The completion of the Chilton slip road is vital as part of our wider strategy to improve the capacity of transport corridors across Oxfordshire."

The Chilton slip roads are part of major improvements at the Milton Interchange and Hagbourne Hill and work will shortly begin on a new link road to the east of Harwell village.

Angus Horner, director of Harwell Campus Management, welcomed the development saying greater connectivity on the roads will help great ideas 'flourish at 21st century speeds'.

Alan Miles, service delivery manager, for Highways England in the South East, said the project will create "better and more reliable journeys" that will "help unlock housing and economic growth".

Chilton parish council initially objected to the scheme but eventually withdrew its objection.

Busy Bees buzz over fundraiser

• Autumn Ellis joined in the face-painting fun at the nursery

STAFF, parents and children from an Oxford nursery have raised more than £200 for a childhood bereavement charity.

Busy Bees nursery on Armstrong Road has been part of the company-wide effort to support Winston's Wish, for which the wider Busy Bees Childcare group has raised £53,000 since January.

As part of a year-long fundraising partnership, Busy Bees nurseries across the UK have been organising a whole host of fundraising activities in aid of the good cause.

The Oxford branch of Busy Bees have been doing their bit and have recently held a host of events including a first birthday party for the nursery, taking the total raised to £221.

Tracey McArdle, manager of Busy Bees Nursery in Oxford, said: "We're very thankful our parents are so supportive and have got behind the cause this year.

"The staff and children have really enjoyed taking part in the fundraising throughout the year and we are extremely grateful to the parents and all our staff here at Busy Bees for getting behind this campaign and supporting a charity which provides an invaluable service."

The money raised will go towards funding specialist bereavement support programmes, including regional drop-in sessions and the National Helpline.

Driver killed

OXON: A woman has died after her car overturned on the M40 on Wednesday last week.

The crash occurred just after 9am when a silver Mercedes ML270 left the carriageway between junctions 10 and 11 and travelled up an embankment.

The driver, a 53-year-old woman, sustained serious spinal and head injuries and was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital.

The woman died as a result of her injuries on Friday.

Police would like to speak to the driver of a black Audi who was driving close to the scene.

Contact police on 101 quoting URN 271 9/11.

Month-long work at Oxford station

By George Welch

A MONTH of work is under way at Oxford railway station to ensure the completion of the line to Marylebone is on track for next month.

Network Rail staff will be working round-the-clock until Sunday December 11.

The majority of the work will be platform construction, which is expected to cause minimal noise, but residents nearby are being warned some work could be noisier.

The work is required to offer a direct route from Oxford to London via Marylebone as part of Network Rail's Railway Upgrade Plan to provide a bigger and better railway for passengers.

Network Rail have said they will work to keep noise levels at a minimum and cause as little disruption as possible to local residents, implementing temporary noise barriers around the working area to reduce the impact of travelling sound.

Network Rail's route delivery director, Graeme Tandy, said: "We would like to thank residents for their patience as we undertake this upgrade work.

• Network Rail's 'Orange Army' of engineers completed laying the final sections of track last month

"It is essential that we complete the installation of track and the building of the platforms to allow Chiltern Railways to connect Oxford Station to Marylebone, providing passengers with new services.

"We will do everything in our power to minimise noise and impact on local residents as this work takes place."

Two newly-built railway stations at Oxford Parkway and Bicester Village, will also take passengers into London Marylebone via the new track.

Network Rail engineers finished laying the final sections of track to connect Oxford city centre with London Marylebone, ahead of Chiltern Railways running services on the new line, last month.

The project also included rebuilding stations at Bicester and Islip.

Once open, two trains per hour will run throughout the day from Oxford city centre to Marylebone with journey times from about an hour.

Work on the project started in February 2014, following a public inquiry and a legal challenge.

Donation to help rescue stray dogs

A DOG training centre has made a donation to help a charity which rescues stray Romanian dogs.

Headington Dog Training has given £100 to help the charity get one step nearer to its goal of buying Happy Tails, its rescue centre, so it can save more dogs from horrific conditions in Romania.

Joyce Allen of Headington Dog Training, handed over the cheque to June Chapman, the Oxfordshire Representative of 1 Dog at a Time Rescue UK.

"We're so grateful to Headington Dog Training for helping us," she said.

June added: "Milly has now found her forever home with a family just outside Oxford, but there are many more dogs that desperately need homes, particularly now with Romanian winter temperatures plummeting to minus 30 degrees.

"Happy Tails, our rescue centre and kennels in Bistrita Nasaud, can presently house up to 35 dogs.

"But we urgently need the funds to buy it.

"We are currently renting and the option to purchase runs out at the end of September 2017.

• Left to right Joyce Allen of Headington Dog Training and June Chapman, the Oxfordshire Representative of 1 Dog at a Time Rescue UK, with Milly

"If we can't raise £67,000 to buy Happys, then we will lose it along with it any hope for the lost, desperate souls that we give refuge to there."

To date, £5,570 has been raised.

She said that after just a few weeks Milly is a better dog and is settling well into her new life in the Oxfordshire countryside.

Levy would force developers to pay community more

By Samantha McGregor

RESIDENTS are being urged to take part in a consultation over plans to force developers to pay more towards community facilities across Cherwell.

Cherwell District Council is proposing to introduce a 'community infrastructure levy' – a scheme brought in in 2010 to make developers pay more towards local infrastructure.

Last year new government rules came into effect limiting the financial contribution developers had to make for infrastructure projects including schools, roads and leisure facilities under Section 106 contributions.

The Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) would be a new charge to help cover any shortfalls created.

Last week Cherwell District Council's executive approved a second stage of consultation on the levy.

Later this month people will be able to give their view on two documents that are currently being finalised by the council.

These are the draft developer contributions supplementary planning document (SPD), a new guidance document setting out what contributions developers should be asked to make when they submit a planning application.

And the community infrastructure levy draft charging schedule (CIL), a proposed levy on development to help fund strategic infrastructure in the district.

Cllr Colin Clarke, Cherwell's lead member for planning, said: "This is an example of Cherwell's proactive work to ensure that decisions made by central Government do not mean poorer outcomes for our residents.

"The Community Infrastructure Levy would ensure that companies building new houses and other developments continue to help pay for the roads, community centres and other infrastructure needed to make those developments sustainable.

"It would generate monies that could be used flexibly across the district and would benefit town and parish councils.

"We look forward to bringing the CIL to fruition as a way of helping deliver the sustainable development required by the adopted Local Plan."

Town and parish councils would also benefit from the levy as they would get 15 per cent of the funds raised by development within their town or parish, and 25 per cent once a neighbourhood plan has been adopted.

Neighbourhood plans are a chance for communities to say where they want future development to take place.

MP opens forest school den for pupils

• MP Victoria Prentis officially opened the new eco classroom last week

CHILDREN at a Banbury school will be able to learn more about nature in a new eco classroom.

North Oxfordshire MP Victoria Prentis officially opened Harriers Banbury Academy's new Forest School Den on Thursday last week.

Forest School is a cross-curricular pupil-led initiative that allows children of all ages to discover more about their natural environment.

It promotes hands-on learning aimed at improving pupils' self-esteem and confidence.

The wooden structure not only provides an outdoor classroom for children but will be available to the wider community.

Alex Pearson, executive principal at Harriers Banbury Academy, said: "At Harriers, we have three core values: purpose, self-worth and engagement.

"We are always looking for ways to stimulate our pupils' curiosity and creativity, while providing purposeful learning, fun and engagement.

"Outdoor learning and our new Forest School Den provide our pupils and teachers with exciting opportunities to learn in different and engaging ways, mixing modern technology with the great outdoors."

Mrs Prentis said: "It was an honour to open the new eco-classroom at Harriers Banbury Academy.

"The Forest Den is an exciting new resource for the children to learn more about the natural world.

"Hands-on experiences are so important for young people, and I am in no doubt that the den will enhance the pupils' curiosity, creativity and knowledge."

Man finds two inside his flat stealing cash

THAME: Police are appealing for information after a "large quantity of cash" was stolen from a flat.

The occupant returned to his flat in Lee Court on Thursday, November 3, to find two men inside.

They left without saying anything and were carrying tools. The owner then found the cash had been stolen.

The first offender was described as black and wearing a grey hooded jumper, dark trousers and white trainers.

Police believe the burglary is linked to another that took place on the same day in Moorend Lane, also in Thame.

Anyone with information should call 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

More homes plan

N OXON: A public consultation over plans to create a further 4,400 homes in the Cherwell district will open later this month.

The move comes after Oxfordshire Growth Board's decision to place more homes in the district.

Cherwell's adopted local plan allows for 22,840 new homes, but also commits the authority to help Oxford meet its unmet housing need by undertaking a partial review of part one of its local plan.

It is not known where yet.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Dogs Needs a Holiday too

As we are a nation renowned for our love of animals, it is not surprising that many dog owners feel uncomfortable at the thought of going away and leaving their best friend behind, especially if kennels are not for them.

Wagging Tails provide a home from home dog boarding service where dogs stay with one of their carefully selected carers as a member of the family for their very own holiday. All of their carers are experienced dog owners and are at home during the day to give the dogs the warmth and comfort they would get at home, along with plenty of exercise and attention.

Owners and their dogs get to meet the carer before the holiday begins to give them the reassurance of knowing where their dogs will be staying and the dogs get a chance to familiarise themselves with their holiday home.

Matching dogs to the most suitable carer is paramount to Wagging Tails, to ensure that the dogs are content and their owners can then relax whilst they are away; carers will only look after one family's dog(s) at any time.

Due to the popularity of this service Wagging Tails are always interested to hear from dog lovers wishing to join their team of carers throughout Oxfordshire.

If you think you could welcome a dog into your family or would like further information about the service, please visit www.waggingtailsuk.co.uk or call Teresa on 07762 132329.

Tunnelling into music

By James Richings

FOLK musician Steve Black has visited hundreds of venues during his music career.

However, the experienced musician from Axminster has never gigged at Fat Lil's in Witney before.

So he will get his first taste of the Corn Street venue on Wednesday, November 23 with fellow folk singer-songwriter Alan West and Ags Connolly.

He comes to West Oxfordshire following the release of his new album 'Right Here and Now' – his first album in two years.

And when asked whether he preferred to record songs or perform them to a live audience, he admitted that it was a 'tough question' to answer.

"The recording process is like watching a painting being created," Steve told the Guardian.

"You start with a blank canvas, that being the songs, and you watch and listen to it take shape and gain colour as the various instruments are added.

"It's a fabulous process to be a part of.

"Live work is always an unknown before you take to the stage but the vast majority of gigs that we do are inwardly satisfying and generally a huge pleasure and privilege.

"So it is a tough question to answer, as they are two different animals!"

As a small child, Mr London would encourage the aspiring musician to get up, sing and make up the lyrics to his piano tunes and it was during these casual sessions that Steve was bitten by the music bug.

Realising that music will be hard to break into, Steve worked in retail for a number of years but after deciding it was not for him, he opened up, 'The Tunnel' – a seven night, two acts a night music venue in Greenwich which turned out to be a huge success.

He later met the late comedian, manager and agent Malcolm Hardee, and The Tunnel then became a comedy club for one night a week, which saw the likes of Jo Brand, Harry Enfield and Julian Clary get their first taste in stand-up comedy.

• Steve Black is coming to Witney on Wednesday

But music has always been Steve's number one passion, and he hopes he can create some more memories in Witney next Thursday.

"It is a very humbling experience when people appreciate your work," he said.

"I am always eternally thankful when people buy my CDs or come up to me and mention that a particular song means a lot to them.

"It's always quite a moment for me."

The gig will start at 8pm and tickets cost £8.

From karaoke to fun country music banter

A NIGHT of country music will be on offer at the Middle Barton Sports and Social Club this Saturday.

The Chris Dunne Band will play a host of popular country hits as part of the Worton Road's Abilene Country Music Club when they visit the venue on Saturday.

Consisting of lead vocalist Chris Dunne, Roly Eales as lead guitarist and on vocals, rhythm guitarist Tom Brierley, bassist Nick Bevan, Gerry Hogan on the pedal steel guitar and Lee Feltham on drums, the six friends hope that their adaptations will go down well with the audience.

"There is always banter with the audience as that's by far the best way to make people open up to you," Chris said.

"If you were to go in and not make the occasional joke, not engage with people and not make eye contact, the audience would leave before you finish the first set.

"We always encourage requests and will adhere to them if we know them as well – it is always good to give an audience something they want and know rather than thrusting lots of unknown songs at them."

He added: "I have always loved singing and wanted to be a singer for as long as I can remember.

"But I never thought I was really any good until I sang at a karaoke night and someone said I could really sing.

"From there, I was singing in a duo with a friend and backing tracks until the chance came along to actually produce live music."

Tickets cost £6 and it starts at 8pm.

Family favourite with a difference

By James Richings

A DIFFERENT version of a classic fairy tale will be arriving at the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot on Sunday.

Instead of the well-known original story of 'Jack and the Beanstalk', the Station Road venue will have 'Jack and the Beans Talk' this weekend.

"Jack is a boy who lives on his farm with his mum and his cow Daisy and all is happy until suddenly one day the clouds disappear and there is no more rain," performer, puppeteer and Garlic Theatre's co-artistic director Iklooshar Malara told the Guardian.

"Jack and his mum become so poor that they have to sell the cow.

"However, the adventure begins when Jack sells Daisy for some magic beans... somewhere we hear the rumblings of a giant."

Garlic Theatre is one of the country's most popular puppet theatre companies – the organisation has five other active shows which are also being toured around the country in theatres and schools.

The theatre company is also no stranger to performing at the Cornerstone, with its version of, 'Old Mother Hubbard' proving to be very popular last September.

And Iklooshar strongly believes the show this Sunday will be a great experience for children who have never seen a live performance before, with the storyteller and puppeteer insisting that the production will also be fun for adults as well as children.

The show will also include audience interaction, an element of theatre that Iklooshar strongly supports and encourages.

"It is vital for youngsters to be able to see live theatre where the level of concentration is so different from watching films on TV and their tablets," she said.

"They are seeing a live event in a room full of people and sharing the humour and story together with no other distractions.

"And all Garlic Theatre shows aim to please adults as well as children with lots of humour and inventiveness so that they will be entertained as well as the younger ones.

"The honest reaction of the children who let you know if they are enjoying the show and always bring a fresh view on the story and the characters with unexpected questions.

"The younger ones really engage with the characters and make them live."

It is suitable for children between three to seven, while tickets cost from £6 to £8.

The show will start at 2pm.

A night with Jools

LIVE MUSIC: Legendary musician and presenter Jools Holland will be arriving at the New Theatre in Oxford on Sunday.

The 58-year-old appears with fellow musicians Pauline Black, Arthur Hendrickson, Beth Rowley, Ruby Turner and Louise Marshall.

Tickets cost £41.50 at the George Street venue, and it starts at 7.30pm.

Lucy's Consequences

COMEDY: Lucy Porter will be at The Mill Arts Centre in Banbury Arts Centre on Saturday as part of her 'Consequences' UK tour.

The 43-year-old's visit to the Spiceball Park venue will be her final show in England before heading up north to perform in Glasgow and Edinburgh.

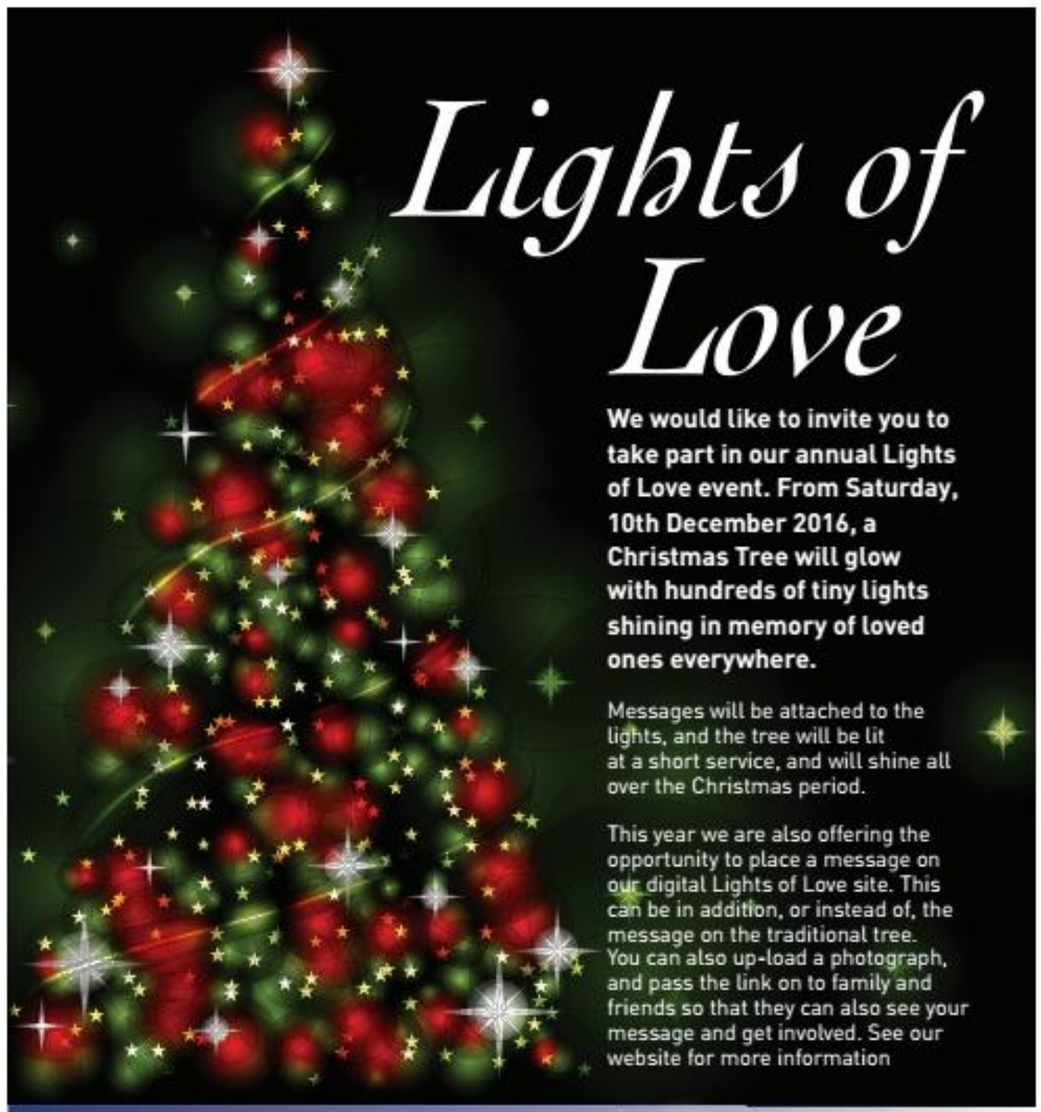
It costs £14.50 and starts at 8pm.

Hard rock anthems

LIVE MUSIC: Brackley-based covers band Bruiser will be performing at The Cricketers Arms pub in Cowley on Saturday.

The four-piece arrive at the pub to showcase tunes from the likes of Led Zeppelin, AC/DC, Deep Purple, Guns n' Roses and Black Sabbath.

The free gig will begin at 9pm.



Lights of Love
We would like to invite you to take part in our annual Lights of Love event. From Saturday, 10th December 2016, a Christmas Tree will glow with hundreds of tiny lights shining in memory of loved ones everywhere.
Messages will be attached to the lights, and the tree will be lit at a short service, and will shine all over the Christmas period.
This year we are also offering the opportunity to place a message on our digital Lights of Love site. This can be in addition, or instead of, the message on the traditional tree. You can also up-load a photograph, and pass the link on to family and friends so that they can also see your message and get involved. See our website for more information
If you would like to take part in the Lights of Love appeal, and have your message on the tree, please contact the Fundraising Office on 01865 857007 or mail@sobellhospice.org to request a pack, or visit our website www.sobellhouse.org
All donations received will go directly towards supporting the services offered by Sobell House to patients and their families

Government must allow the rental sector to flourish

Bill Cooper, co-author of The Oxford Property Blog and managing director of Martin and Co, Oxford

During a property viewing recently, a landlord brought up the subject of a report he had read from the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors (RICS) and PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) that stated almost 1.8m new rental homes are needed by 2025 to keep up with current demand from tenants.

If RICS and PwC are correct, what does it mean for Oxford? The fact is, as a country, we are facing a precarious rental shortage and need to get Oxford building in a way that benefits a cross-section of society, not just the fortunate few. In my opinion, the Chancellor of the Exchequer should drop the higher stamp duty tax on buy-to-let purchases and ease the pressure on the rental market.

Of the 58,700 households in Oxford, currently 41,400 tenants live in 16,000 private rented properties. If we apportion the 1.8m households that RICS said will be needed equally around the country, that means in nine years' time, the number of rental properties in Oxford needs to rise by 6,800 (ie 42.8%), taking the total number of rented properties in the city to 22,800.

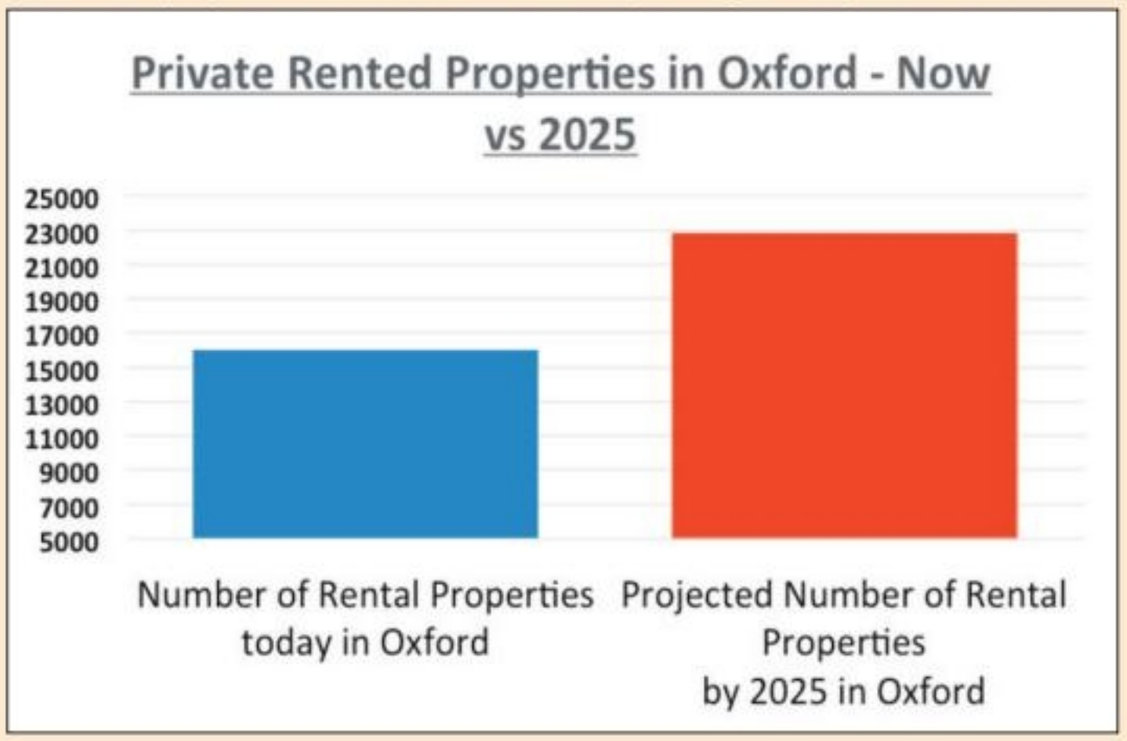
That means Oxford landlords need to buy about 800 properties a year between now and 2025 to meet demand – because, according to my calculations, an additional 17,700 people will want to live in those 'additional' Oxford rental properties. So why is the Government penalising landlords? Thankfully, the new housing minister Gavin Barwell has ensured Theresa May's new administration doesn't have the singular laser-like focus of only home ownership to solve our housing issues. The private rented sector became a stooge under David Cameron's watch and still, with increasingly unaffordable Oxford house prices, many new Oxford households will be relying on the rental sector in the future for housing.

I can only say, Westminster must put in place the measures that will allow the rental sector to flourish. Any restrictions on the supply of rental property will push up rents (bad news for tenants), further sidelining those members of Oxford society who are already struggling.

Let's hope this new Government continues to see the contribution landlords make to an integrated housing strategy, buying precious time for house building to catch up with demand.



Use Andrews' Christmas campaign to achieve cracker of a house sale

As the festive season approaches, it's easy to put seemingly non-essential tasks on the backburner until the merriment is over and the New Year has arrived - marketing your home for a sale, however, needn't be one of them.

Our annual Christmas Cracker campaign at Andrews estate agent has just launched and, now in its fourth year, we're expecting it to be as popular as ever. But whilst Christmas is often a time of gimmicks, our Christmas Cracker is anything but. Quite simply, it's an opportunity to get your property ready for marketing before the chaos of Christmas sets in – which, let's face it, gets earlier every year. No-one wants to review a property's details with a Christmas tree taking up half the lounge or with piles of presents obscuring the available floor space.

That's why, before all these inevitable changes (however temporary they may be) take place, we'll come in and work with you to develop the necessary marketing details from floorplans to (Christmas-free!) photography. This allows you to then get on with the festive period without having to worry about a tinsel overload ruining your property pictures.

With all the necessary details in place, we can then prepare to market your property to a ready and waiting list of registered and interested purchasers on Christmas Day. Yes, that's right, we'll market your property on Christmas Day.

Far from being a gimmick, this is an approach which is based on sound statistical evidence of when people visit our website. Over the years, our monitoring data has shown that at about 3pm – exactly when in years gone by the nation would settle down for the Queen's Speech – there is a peak in visitors logging on to andrewsonline.co.uk.

This is, no doubt, down to the increasing popularity of laptops, tablets and smartphones as presents, but nonetheless it provides an opportunity to be ahead of the crowd when it comes to securing a New Year property sale.

Once property details are released to the pre-registered database on Christmas Day, prospective purchasers can book viewings online before the property goes on to the open market when branches re-open on December 28. This allows the seller to enjoy Christmas and look forward to ready-made viewings in the New Year.

And the results speak for themselves - on average, each property marketed as part of this campaign receives three times more viewings than those that are not. Overall instructions in the month of December are now 80% higher than in the years before it was launched and booked viewings are also 80% higher. Finally, over the Christmas period, an impressive 80% of our website traffic can be directly linked to the Christmas Cracker campaign.

So, while booking next year's holiday can wait until the New Year, don't put off marketing your property for a sale.

Contact your local Andrews branch (there are five across Oxfordshire) or log on to www.andrewsonline.co.uk to find out more about how you can achieve a sale ready for the New Year.

Martin & Co, Oxford's Stable, Local Alternative

Personalised local service for landlords

Large Corporate letting agent behemoths are swallowing-whole previously high-quality independent local agents, making millionaires of the founders, but losing focus on the delivery of quality service to long-standing customers, as their own corporate spending comes back to bite them.

Branches are closing, local teams are being dismantled and the vital property management services that landlords depend on are being centralised into national call-centres. The losers in this drive for Corporate efficiency are loyal local landlords, who risk suffering a lower-quality less personal service, from people who have no first-hand knowledge of their property and who rarely, if ever leave the office to build an understanding of their local property market.

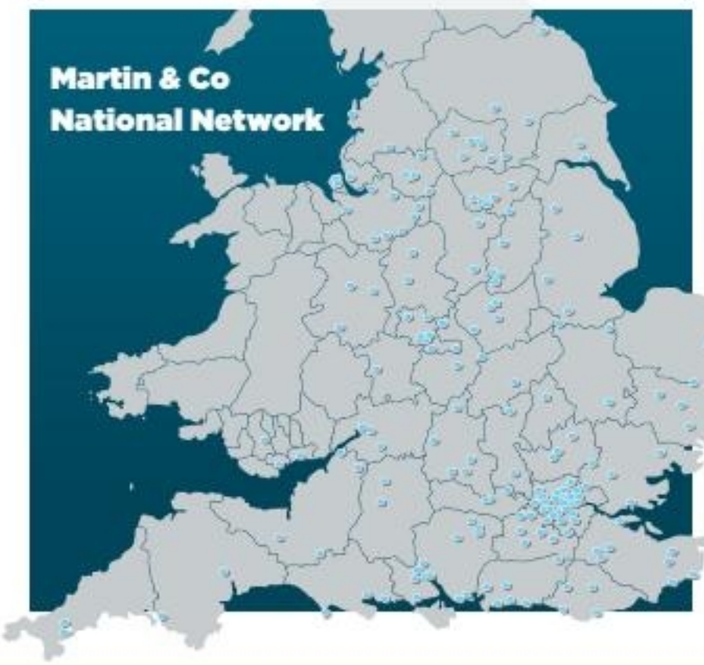
As a refreshing alternative to call-centre style centralisation of services, Martin & Co employ a team of people who live locally and work in Central Oxford. The staff, who live and breathe the Oxford property market day-in day-out, have truly expert knowledge that they use to provide service to their clients. Martin & Co property managers meet with and speak with their landlords daily, and visit their properties quarterly to maintain first-hand personal knowledge of condition, maintenance requirements and general condition. They take time to sit down with landlords to understand their requirements, and tailor their services so that each landlord receives a personalised service.

But isn't the independent local operation doomed in this world of ever-growing Corporate dominance?

No. Martin & Co Oxford, though independently owned and locally staffed, is part of a nation-wide network of independent agencies each of which is a franchisee of Martinco PLC. This structure is increasingly preferred by landlords who recognise the advantages that a UK plc can offer, but really value the provision of local services by people with whom they can build a close personal working relationship.



Does national-scale, but local service provision work in practice?

Yes it does. A recent survey of Martin & Co customers across the UK confirmed that 92% of customers 'love the service they receive' relying on applied local knowledge and valuing the personal relationships they form over months and years with our Oxford-based staff.

If you are worried about the future of your agent, or just fancy a chat to explore how Martin & Co serve their clients...

...then drop in for coffee at their Woodin's Way office. Their central location just off Paradise Street provides for easy parking, and their loyal customers know that the friendly staff are only too happy to take the time to discuss their unique approach and personalised service provision. There is no hard-sell, just straight talking, interesting insights into the local property market, and great advice about optimising investment returns and planning effective property portfolios.

ENTERTAINMENT & LISTINGS

Methera make college debut

By James Richings

THEY have performed all over the country with a number of big name folk musicians such as Nancy Kerr and James Fagan.

However, folk quartet Methera will be embarking on their debut visit to Oxford's Corpus Christi College on Thursday, November 24

The four friends – John Dipper and Emma Reid on the fiddle, Miranda Rutter on the viola and cellist Lucy Deakin – will perform tracks off their new album 'Votex', their first album for six years.

And with the foursome currently on their 10th anniversary tour, Lucy hopes they can make their show in Oxford next Thursday a night to remember.

"The name 'Vortex' came from comments we have heard from members of the audience or which have been written in our gig book, such as 'you create a vortex of sound that spirals out of the circle', which sums up what we are trying to convey," Lucy said.

"Our last album release was in 2010, so we've got lots of new material which hasn't been recorded. We love our music to have time to develop 'live' before we put it onto record."

She hopes the band will still be playing in 10 years.

"There have been many logistical challenges over the years, including the birth of eight babies between us and travel across three continents for rehearsals and gigs.

"We hope there will be many more years yet!"

The band have released three albums in the past 10 years, and have formed a reputation that have made them one of the most respected folk groups in the country.

Their down to earth demeanour as a whole, self-written tracks and intimate shows have made them very popular within the UK.

And one thing about the band that makes them unique from fellow folk groups is the way they set up for a performance, which has been recognised by fans and music critics.

"We always play in the round, in a close inward-facing circle," Lucy explained.

"It means we hear every detail of the collective sound and can bounce off each others' ideas in real time.

"The individual notes we play are rarely set in stone, rather they are influenced by the room, the acoustic, the audience and what we are hearing in the moment.

"This all comes together to make a unique performance every time."

The gig will begin at 7pm and tickets cost £11.

Enjoy a tete-a-Tate

COMEDY: Comedienne, actress and writer Catherine Tate will be at The New Theatre on Wednesday.

The 48-year-old from Bloomsbury comes to the George Street venue as part of her 'Catherine Tate Live' UK tour, bringing many of the much-loved characters from her eponymous award-winning sketch show.

Tickets cost from £33.65 to £40.15 and it starts at 7.30pm.

Shires come to town

LIVE MUSIC: Country duo The Shires will be arriving at the O2 Academy in Oxford tomorrow night.

Made up of Ben Earle and Chrissie Rhodes, the two come to the Cowley Road venue following the September release of their second album, 'My Universe'.

Tickets £25, doors open at 6.30pm.

Psychological trip

FILM: 'The Girl on the Train' will be screened at The Theatre Chipping Norton on Friday and Sunday.

Emily Blunt's character Rachel daydreams about an imaginary 'perfect couple' living in one of the homes she sees from the train but the reality is very different.

Tickets from £9 and both screenings start at 7.30pm.

JACK AND THE BEANSTALK
Imaginative puppetry gives this classic tale a fresh and funny spin. Was it a dream or did I hear a talking bean? Jack lives on a small farm with his mum and very little to eat. He likes to talk to the birds, his cow and anyone who will listen. Imagine his surprise when he swaps his cow for some magic beans and starts to hear a whispering in the breeze and a giant rumble in the sky... Charming and inventive with plenty of interaction, an enormous beanstalk, bags of gold and a smelly old giant, Jack and the Beans Talk is a cautionary tale about what might happen if you throw things out of the window!

DAVID ESSEX
Internationally renowned singer, composer and actor David Essex OBE has announced his first major tour in over four years. The 21 date UK tour taking place in November will see him perform much loved hits spanning over his entire 50 year repertoire.
David first shot to fame when he went to an audition for the London production of the musical Godspell and was chosen by enthusiastic US producers for the role of Jesus. He received major awards and some ecstatic reviews which saw him lead a cast at the Roundhouse and then at the West End for two years.

IN THE REPUBLIC OF HAPPINESS
The family Christmas dinner seems to be proceeding with the usual superficial warmth and humour, before the surprise visit of Uncle Bob causes an outburst of raw emotion. One by one, the family's darker indulgences are revealed...
One of the UK's most inventive and accomplished dramatists, Crimp's play is a razor-sharp commentary on modern consumer society. With his typical confrontational bite, he explores ideas of happiness, the destruction of the family, and the attempt to create a life "like a pane of glass" where everything is happy, beautiful, and shallow.

Who Cares

Can you help find Elizabeth this Christmas?

It can be difficult to imagine how it feels to experience the blanks in one's memory that characterise living with Alzheimer's or dementia –it was described by Maria Parsons, Chief Executive of the Oxford-based Creative Arts Dementia Network, as akin to being placed in the middle of a busy station at rush hour where the language spoken around you is in a foreign tongue, the signage is in a script you don't understand and you have a pressing need to find the Ladies/Gents. You just can't work out where to go or what to do.

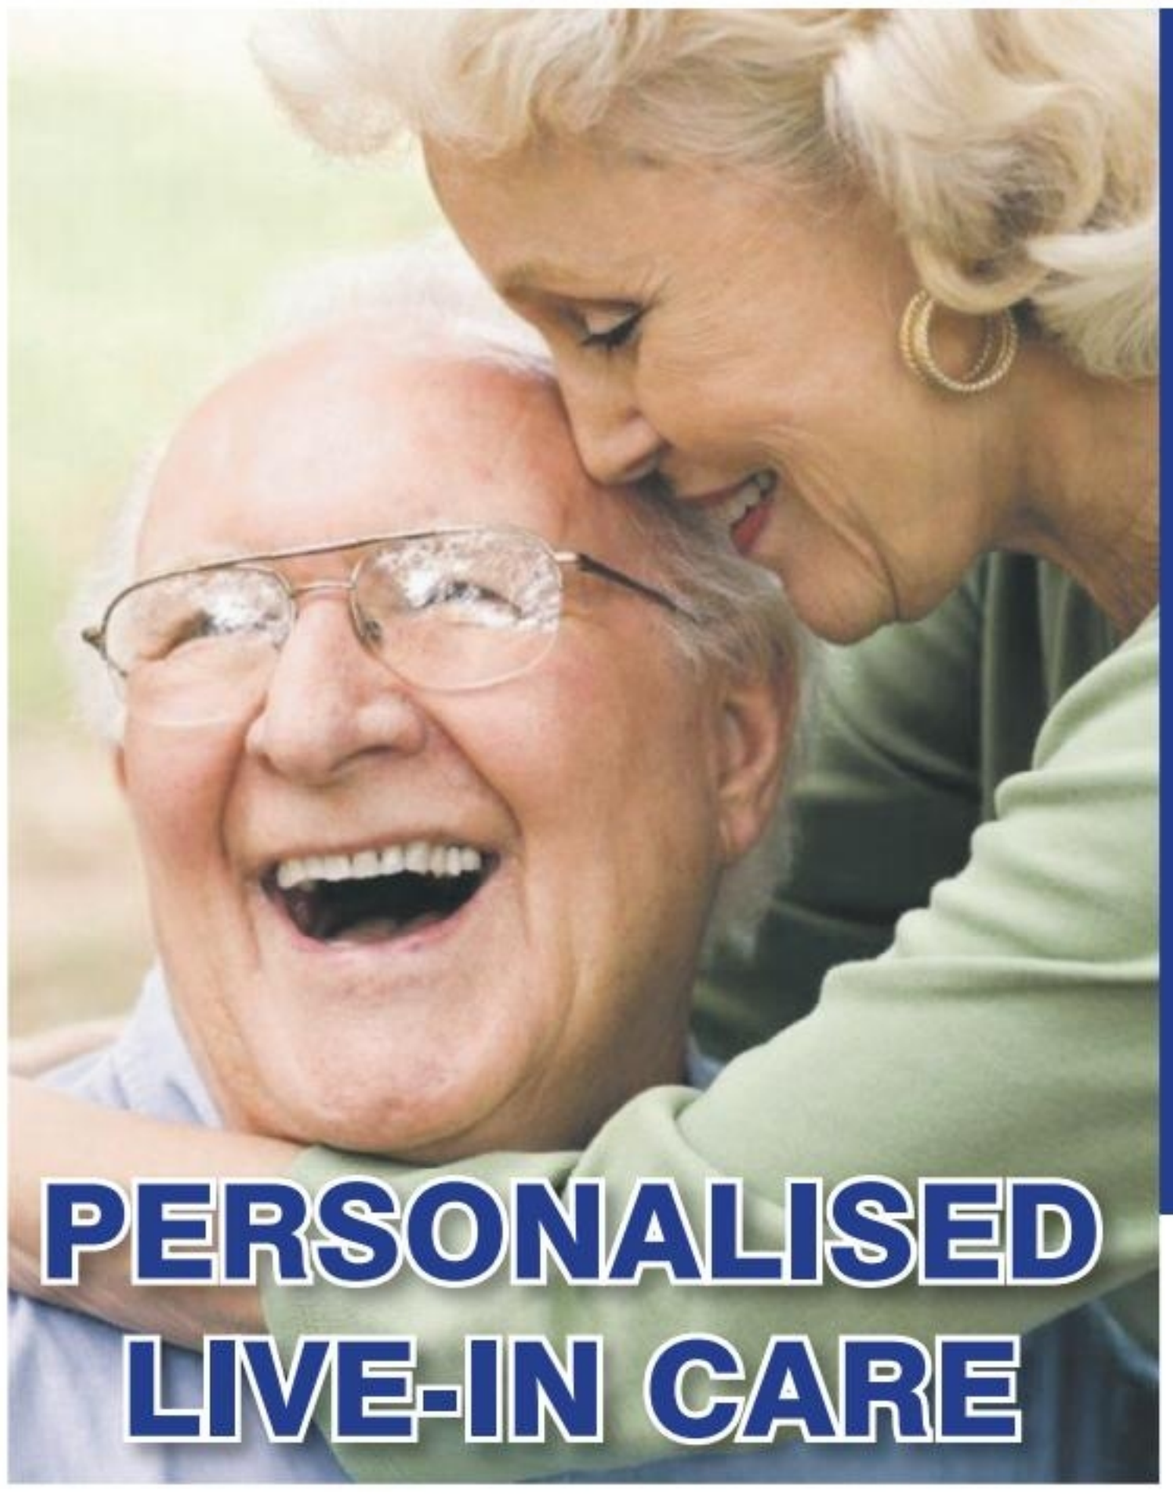
For a light-hearted insight that would be appropriate under the Christmas tree, the novel Elizabeth is Missing tells the story of an elderly lady, Maud, whose memory is failing in this way, as she tries to track down her friend Elizabeth. The author Emma Healey shows how it would be to live with the challenges this presents through Maud's eyes: her recollections of the present can be sketchy, yet she can see far more clearly the details of incidents from her childhood. Maud, therefore, whilst struggling to grasp something simple in the current time, manages to piece together a mystery from seventy years previously. Alongside the humour and intrigue, Elizabeth is Missing is deeply moving as we join Maud in her daily life, and gain some understanding of the puzzles and frustrations of those who suffer from memory loss in this way, and their carers.

It is difficult to see a loved one face the challenges of old age, whether dementia or the general 'growing pains' of increasing years, and many people appreciate a helping hand. Day and Nightcare Assistance provides help in the heart of the home for those who need a little extra support to enable them to continue living comfortably in their own home.

Our team are chosen for their values, their commitment to quality care and support provided with respect and dignity on an individual basis. This may be in the form of a visit every so often, perhaps to help with meals or personal care, or support with rehabilitation or the longer-term challenges.

'Everybody needs a helping hand at some stage in their life, whether it's in their working life or because they're privileged enough to live to a ripe old age, and it's a heart-warming feeling when you help people and bring a smile to their faces day-in and day-out.' enthuses Day and Nightcare Assistance Managing Director John Maloney. 'The need for social care keeps growing as the population grows older and here in Oxfordshire thousands of people have values and skills which we can help them develop into a career while providing a much appreciated service.'

'We have offices in Oxford, Banbury, Wantage and Witney and provide support across the whole county. If you are caring and reliable and would be interested in helping others to enjoy quality of life at home, then come and talk to us informally about the various Home Support roles we have and how we can help you find something that suits your style.'



Caremark offers a specialised care service for people who need support with day-to-day life but want to stay in their own home. Caremark's live-in care service enables you to remain as independent as possible, whilst being fully supported by a full time live-in Care Worker.

Care at home

You will have choice and control over your life. You can live in familiar surroundings with family, friends, your own possessions, furniture and pets too!
We will agree a personal support plan with you, detailing what kind of care and support you need, including your preferences. You'll enjoy one-to-one support from a fully trained Care Worker. Youll be able to relax, knowing that there is someone there for you seven days a week, to help with your housework, personal care and shopping or simply to provide good company.

Your satisfaction and happiness are vital to us

We will match your Care Workers to your needs. We will regularly monitor and review your satisfaction to make sure you always receive the highest standard of care.

Hyundai proves to be a surprise

I HAVE not tested a Hyundai in a while so I thought it was about time I did. The car you see before you is the i20 Coupe which in my book looks ok but does not ignite my fire as much as some other brands. However, it turned out to be better than I expected it to be and I would say that it's a much better buy than a Vauxhall Corsa in a like-for-like comparison.

By Anthony Yates

Power and Efficiency:

My test car was fitted with the new 3-cylinder T-GDi DOHC 1.0 litre petrol engine that has 120ps and 171Nm of torque, and a top speed of about 118mph. It replaces some of Hyundai's older engines which were slow and not very powerful at all.

You also have another two petrol engines to choose from in the form of an 84ps, 1.2-litre 4-cylinder or 100ps 1.0-litre, T-GDi 3-cylinder. The 120ps engine fitted in my test car was actually very refined for a 3 cylinder and, if it was me, I would always opt for the more powerful engine because 'more is better'. Also in the 120ps version you get a decent six-speed manual gearbox as standard instead of a five-speed you would get in the 84ps or 100ps for that matter. Fuel economy is also good and I achieved a figure of about 54.4mpg (combined).

On the road:

As I expected, the i20 is easy to drive around town and the same can be said for motorway driving. The ride quality is not what I would of liked it to be, but then for a car only costing about 16k I can't expect too much. What I will say, though, is that it felt good into the corners and the suspension dealt with most surfaces with ease and although the ride itself was a little choppy it was actually very good.

Design & Technology:

On the outside, the i20 looks relatively elegant but then when you get to the inside it really is quite bland. Maybe I am being over critical, but in the past I have said this about VW and Seat because they also produce some bland interiors on some of their models. So, the i20 is not that nice on the inside – but it is practical and you do get quite an assortment of kit fitted as standard in the Sport Nav line-up.

Some of the standard kit on the i20 Sport Nav includes DAB radio and seven speakers, 17" alloy wheels, auto headlights & wipers, cruise control, 6 airbags, ABS with ESP & ESS, 7" touchscreen satellite navigation with rear view camera and LED daytime running lights.

To sum up:

The i20 Coupe is a decent car which has lots of rear leg room, interior space and a large boot. If you are thinking of buying one, then I would still go for the 120ps version because it's easier to live with and cheap to run.

Price: £16,750 (as tested).

What's stopping you?

Did you know that on every vehicle on Britain's roads they all have one common element - brakes! And no matter what make or model they all operate on the same principle, driver pedal pressure turned into huge stopping power via a complex system of fluid, pipes, hoses, master cylinder, calipers, discs, pads etc, and yet we still get asked on a daily basis why we advise you, the customer, to have the system checked and serviced on a regular basis when in reality the brake system is the only thing that stops you crashing every journey.

The MOT does not help, due to the fact on the MOT test, us the testers are not allowed to fail a vehicle unless the system is close to failure or extreme wear. We can only advise if a repair is required.

Modern systems now also have other functions to operate, for example on some Mercedes the brakes are automatically applied in heavy rain for a millisecond, without the driver being any of the wiser, so if an emergency stop is required the discs and pads are free from heavy water residue, amazing technology that needs careful care and attention by skilled technicians.

The golden rule for your ultimate safety is always get a fully qualified technician to fit quality parts and never be tempted to use cheap products from unknown manufacturers. Every six months ask your local garage to have a look around the system to spot any possible defects, before you face a situation where you need to stop in an emergency, you hit the pedal and nothing happens!

BERLINETTA
CLASSIC CAR AUCTIONS

With just a few days to go now before their Autumn Sale in the glorious grounds of The Manor Hotel, the team at Berlinetta are expecting a large turnout. Serious buyers, enthusiasts, families and just those window-shoppers (windscreen shoppers?) who simply enjoy feasting their eyes on classic cars - all will be equally welcome at this unique event.

With free admission and cars available to view from 1pm onwards on Sunday and all day up until 6pm on Monday, an outing to Weston-on-the-Green would seem to be a good plan for classic enthusiasts - we'll certainly be there!

Berlinetta Classic Car Auctions launched at the beginning of this year, providing a fresh and enticing alternative to the traditional routes available when buying or selling classic cars. Brothers Rob and Pete Thornton founded the company with the aim of providing all the up-sides of buying direct from an owner, dealer or broker, combined with the immediacy, fun and focus of the auction process. Their boutique sales are conducted over 2 days, allowing buyers to inspect cars at the venue and bid either online at any point during the sale period or more traditionally via staff at the venue. Berlinetta's Autumn Sale takes place over this Sunday 20th November and Monday 21st November, with an exciting and varied consignment list which can be seen in full on their website.

The brothers feel that while a conventional auction is effective in that it provides a time-limited focus to any transaction, the risks incurred by buyers, who are unable to fully evaluate potential purchases prior to bidding, are significant. As Berlinetta explained 'you wouldn't invest in a property prior to having it surveyed, and investing in a classic car is not dissimilar. Our unique 'try before you buy' facility allows potential buyers to talk direct to our team, fully inspect a vehicle (on ramps if required), hear it run and even be taken on a test drive, all from the auction site, prior to bidding."

By providing the opportunity for sellers to be on hand to demonstrate their cars to prospective buyers, and by avoiding the expense involved in staging and running a traditional 'man with gravel' auction, the company is able to keep overheads low and offer a groundbreaking 0% sellers commission. This unique fee structure is enhanced by their offer to accommodate sellers and their partners at the hotel over the sale period free of charge, with an exclusive reception on the Sunday night to further enhance the social side of the event.

"Selling or buying a classic car should be more than just a transaction. We aim to turn it into a sociable, enjoyable and ultimately profitable experience for all by offering both sellers and buyers an excellent deal, all in beautiful surroundings and in the company of other like-minded enthusiasts."

For further details - www.berlinetta-auctions.co.uk - or call 01903 530 926 (Southern office) or 01636 627 115 (Midlands office).

With free admission and the chance to brighten the pre-Christmas season with a little classic car eye-candy, we look forward to seeing you there.

THE LAW HAS CHANGED ... DO YOU HAVE THE CORRECT GAS?

We can now offer R1234YF car air-con recharge and service

Wheatley CAR CENTRE

Is your car 2013 or newer? If so, you will need the correct gas.

As of the 7th September 2016 we are able to offer R1234yf refrigerant re-gassing, or a car air-con recharge as sometimes known at our Wheatley Car Centre Branch.

This gas is compulsory for new cars from 2013 all be it has been around since 2010, although some manufacturers are still refusing to use this, notably Mercedes who are not happy with the flammable nature of the gas, which in turn means not many companies offer the re-gassing service for cars using r1234yf. But due to the amount of cars we sell we have needed to be able have this service onsite so we can now offer this service to our customers.

A common question is why the old, r134a gas found in most cars today, is being replaced?

It's driven by environmental concerns as the new gas is more environmentally friendly.

So, for ALL your re-gas and service needs please contact our Wheatley Car Centre Service Department, tel. 01865 874046 opt 2 • www.wheatleycarcentre.co.uk

Holidays

POLRUAN COTTAGES CORNWALL

Self-Catering Holiday Cottages overlooking the Beautiful Fowey River.

Cottages to sleep from 2 to 8 persons with stunning views.

If you have a cottage in this area and are thinking of holiday letting, please do get in touch. Alternatively if you have or are thinking of buying a second home in south east Cornwall but do not wish to rent it out and are worried because you are so far away, we will step in to help, making insurance checks or just to read the electric meter, giving you peace of mind someone is popping in to check the property.

Massa given standing ovation as he bows out in home race

By Adam Flinn

THERE were emotional scenes as Felipe Massa walked back to his Williams garage after crashing out of Sunday's Brazilian Grand Prix and was given a standing ovation by fans and other teams.

Massa was competing in his last race on home soil as he heads into retirement at the end of the season when he lost control of his Williams in the wet conditions on lap 46.

Coupled with Valtteri Bottas' 11th-placed finish, it means that Williams' hopes of catching Force India for fourth in the constructors' championship are all but over.

Massa was visibly emotional as he walked back to the pits draped in a Brazilian flag.

He said: "It's impossible to explain my feelings for everything that has happened, so much love. I was just walking in front of my people with this amazing reaction, not just from the fans but from all the people in Formula One coming out to clap their hands for me.

"I don't think I deserved as much as this, the minimum I can say is thank you very much to everyone, all the people I've worked with, all of the fans – I will never forget this day."

It was a race to forget otherwise for Williams after the wrong tyre strategy in heavy rain meant they failed to score any points.

The race was red flagged twice as the rain intensified, ruining Williams' gamble to switch to the intermediate tyres as they tried to jump up the field.

Bottas did manage to get to the end, but frustratingly finished less than a second behind Fernando Alonso who occupied the final points-paying position.

He said: "It was a very difficult day in very difficult conditions.

"We had quite a lot of potential with the strategy, but in the end the intermediate tyres started working a bit too late for us.

"It's been amazing to see the support here for Felipe and I'm sure he really appreciated it."

Force India enjoyed a big haul of points from the weekend, with Sergio Perez just missing out on a podium in fourth and Nico Hulkenberg seventh.

The 18 points they picked up mean they are 27 clear of Williams in the standings, with the Grove-based team's best haul in one race having been the 22 they picked up in Russia in May.

The last race of the season in Abu Dhabi is on November 27.

Embarrassing exit for Grosjean

IT was an embarrassing afternoon for Romain Grosjean at Sunday's Brazilian Grand Prix, as he crashed out before the race had even begun.

The Haas driver was getting a feel for the extreme wet conditions on the way to the grid ahead of the start when he lost control of the car coming on to the pit straight and slammed into the wall.

It came after the Frenchman had matched his best qualifying position of the season the previous day and was due to line up in seventh.

"We went from hero to zero in less than 24 hours," said Grosjean.

"I wasn't even flat out. There was really no grip at that point. I picked up the wheelspin, spun and crashed.

"I feel so bad for the crew, and I'm sorry for the fans and for all of the Haas F1 team."

His team-mate Esteban Gutierrez also had a frustrating day as he was forced to retire in the closing stages of the race with electrical issues.

This led to the Mexican having to be calmed down by team boss Gunther Steiner after he was seen on television coverage throwing his gloves in anger in the garage.

It came after Haas confirmed before the race that Kevin Magnussen would replace Gutierrez for the 2017 season.

Manor could miss out on millions

FELIPE Nasr's ninth-place finish for Sauber at Sunday's Brazilian Grand Prix caused heartbreak for Banbury-based Manor, as it means they could lose out on tens of millions of pounds in funding.

The two points Sauber gained in the chaotic, rain-affected race have moved the Swiss team above Manor in the constructors' championship into 10th.

No prize money is given out for coming 11th, with Manor having been in the all-important top-10 since scoring one point at the Austrian Grand Prix in July.

Manor's racing director Dave Ryan said: "We were pretty apprehensive in Austin and Mexico, with Sauber hovering on the cusp of a point in both races. With conditions like we've seen this weekend, it was always going to come down to luck.

"The whole team is disappointed to say the least, but there is one race remaining and we have to keep pushing all the way to the chequered flag in Abu Dhabi."

Elsewhere, Enstone-based Renault saw Kevin Magnussen come home 14th, while Jolyon Palmer retired.

Smith gains ninth place in Spain

OXFORD MotoGP rider Bradley Smith concluded his time at Tech3 and the 2016 season with a ninth-place finish in Valencia on Sunday.

The 25-year-old battled his way through the race in the midfield to pick up some points to end a challenging season and finish a lowly 17th in the championship standings with 62 points.

It comes as he and team-mate Pol Espargaro will race alongside each other for the new KTM team in 2017.

Smith said: "It was a tricky race, but I gave my all and to finish in ninth is quite a positive way to end the season after what we've been through.

"I'd like to give a big thanks to the entire Tech3 team for all of their work in the past four years in MotoGP and two additional years before that in Moto2.

"I wish the guys the very best with the new riders for the 2017 season and I'll come and say bonjour again in the future."

Testing for 2017 began immediately after the Valencia race, with Smith completing 16 laps for KTM on Tuesday for a best time of 1:32.774.

Timmer helps Oxford to first win of season

A FLOOR Timmer hat-trick inspired Oxford Hockey Club Ladies 1s to their first win of the season – at the seventh time of asking.

Oxford emerged victorious in a 4-3 win at second-placed Teddington 1sts to climb off the foot of the table.

Timmer converted with just three minutes on the clock and shortly afterwards grabbed her second, latching on to a ball from Meg Scott.

Beth Williamson then made it 3-0 to Oxford, slotting the ball home from a corner.

Teddington clawed a goal back before half-time and, in the second half, brought the score to 3-2 before Christy Barnard crossed for Timmer to complete her hat-trick with a deft touch over the keeper.

Teddington scored from a penalty kick to make it 4-3 with 10 minutes to go but MOM Harriet Wilkinson proved resolute in the Oxford goal.

Greens extend unbeaten run

KIDLINGTON extended their unbeaten league run to four games and made it back-to-back victories for just the second time this season in a 3-1 home win against Barton Rovers on Saturday.

A tremendous team performance was capped off with a brace from Lewis Coyle and an Anaclet Odhiambo strike to record the Greens' fifth win of the season and take them further away from the relegation zone.

With 10 points from four games, the Greens are now on 18 points, 11 points above the relegation zone.

Kidlington, who have won three of their last four matches in the Southern League Division One Central, took an early lead through Coyle on four minutes.

But the Greens were pegged back less than 15 minutes later when Rod Orlando-Young powered home a fine individual goal.

But Julian McCalmon's side headed into the break with their noses in front after Coyle did well wide on Kidlington's left to pick out Odhiambo, whose perfect header found the back of the net on 39 minutes.

On the hour mark, Henry Owen was on the receiving end of another pinpoint Coyle cross but the centre back's header could only find Rovers' woodwork.

Pepperell on course to win back European Tour card

By Adam Flinn

ABINGDON golfer Eddie Pepperell looks set to win back his European Tour card after a strong showing in qualifying school.

With one round remaining he is sat in joint third position, with the tournament at the PGA Catalunya Resort in Spain set to finish tomorrow.

Five consistent rounds so far have got Pepperell to nine under par, within five shots of current leader and former Ryder Cup winner Edoardo Molinari.

Any finish in the top-25 would see Pepperell keep his card, after a disappointing run of form in the second half of this season saw the 25-year-old slide down the rankings.

And his strong form this week has been despite suffering a swollen ankle during his round on Sunday.

Pepperell started off the tournament with three consecutive rounds of 69, the first round including an eagle and four birdies.

Rounds two, three and four were steady as he finished each day one under par, as he gradually made his way up the order.

The breakthrough day came yesterday however, with a three under par round of 69 propelling him up into the top-three.

His round got off to a great start as he birdied the first, before making up another shot at the seventh.

Two successive birdies on 11 and 12 put him four under, with pars on every other hole until a late bogey on the final hole cost him a shot and the chance to go third on his own.

Pepperell got into the position of needing to go through qualifying school after a run of missing seven cuts in his last eight tournaments left him outside the top-110 in the Race to Dubai - meaning he didn't automatically keep his tour card.

He had looked set to make the cut in his final outing in October in the Portugal Masters, just needing par on the final hole to progress to the weekend.

But an ugly double bogey sent him home early, with qualifying school his only chance at returning to the tour for 2017.

Oxford bounce back after Raiders defeat

OXFORD City Stars suffered a heavy 9-5 defeat at London Raiders on Saturday before securing their first shut-out of the season in a 4-0 win against Invicta Dynamos at Oxford Ice Rink on Sunday.

Oxford are now just two points off league leaders Chelmsford Chieftains.

The Stars were only 1-0 down to Raiders after a Marek Nahlik's strike at the end of the first period. But in the second period Nahlik added two more and a John Connolly strike and a brace from former Stars man James Pentecost saw the hosts race to a 6-1 lead. Dominic Hopkins netted Oxford's goal.

There were a further seven goals in the last period, including four for Oxford from Mike Whillock, Josh Florey, Matt Jordan and Hallam Wilson. But Raiders raced to a 9-5 win with further goals for hat-trick hero Pentecost and a double from JJ Pitchley.

However, the Stars bounced back on Sunday in a 4-0 win over Dynamos, with Alan Green, Benjamin Nethersall, Jaroslave Cesky and Hopkins scoring.

WANTAGE Town climbed off the foot of the table after they finally recorded their first win of the season 3-2 win at fellow strugglers Bridgewater Town on Saturday.

The Freds, who deserved their first league win in 16 attempts and two-and-a-half months, were helped on their way to the three points with two early goals at Fairfax Park.

James Glover floated in a well-placed header before Mark Francis' simple finish gave them a two-goal advantage within 15 minutes. The hosts improved in the second half and pulled a goal back through Syd Camper from a corner.

But Aaron Ferris scored Wantage's third with 10 minutes remaining.

Harry Horton pulled a goal back for the home side with two minutes left when he found the back of the net with a superb shot from outside the box, but it was too late.

The Freds, who are three points from safety, host play-off chasing Bideford on Saturday as the side looks for their first win at Alfredian Park.

• The club announced recently that chairman Tony Woodward has had to stand down due to health reasons. Ian Glover has agreed to stand in as chairman for the remainder of the season.

Railwaymen stay on track with victory

DIDCOT Town made it three wins on the bounce with a 1-0 win against Barnstaple Town at the Loop Meadow Stadium on Saturday.

Diddy emerged victorious in a close match which saw plenty of high-paced, high-energy, end-to-end football.

Declan Benjamin played a smart pass through to match winner Ben Whitehead, who slotted the ball through the legs of Barnstaple keeper Steve Oliver on 55 minutes to extend Didcot's unbeaten run to four games.

The Railwaymen looked to double their lead when Whitehead's pass across the face of the goal caught a Barnstaple defender and sent the ball into the air, but Conor Davis could only head over from two yards out.

Barnstaple came close in the 67th minute when they were awarded a free kick just outside the Didcot penalty area, only for Shaun Copp's effort to clip the crossbar.

Andy Ballard's men will look to extend their unbeaten run to five at home to Paulton Rovers on Saturday.

The Railwaymen sit in 12th place in the Southern League Division 1 South & West table.

Oxford's draw

FOOTBALL: Oxford City will play either Hastings United or South Park at home in the third and final qualifying round of the Buildbase FA Trophy.

South Park hosted Hastings on Tuesday night after the sides played out a 1-1 draw at Hastings's The Pilot Field stadium on Saturday. They both play two divisions lower than Justin Merritt's side.

National League South sides enter the competition at this stage and the Hoops' best performance in the competition came last season when they reached the last 16 before losing 1-0 at National League side Woking.

The tie will be played at Court Place Farm on Saturday, November 26.

Stevens' recall

Stephens, a first-year pro with the U's, has done well while at Court Place Farm and returned to the U's to provide cover for first choice Simon Eastwood.

He was on the bench when the U's lost at Shrewsbury on Saturday as Benji Buchel was away on international duty with Liechtenstein.

City go clear of drop zone after back-to-back wins

By George Welch

OXFORD City secured their first back-to-back wins of the season with a 3-1 win at home to Bishop's Stortford.

The Hoops followed up November 5's 1-0 win at Hampton & Richmond Borough with a commanding performance at Court Place Farm taking them further away from the National League South drop zone.

First-half goals from Reece Fleet and Jefferson Louis and a second-half Jonny Giles strike secured City's third win in five matches which has lifted them up to 17th place and six points off the relegation zone.

The home side continued to apply pressure as they played out from the back, utilised the wings and were first to every ball, and they were rewarded for their energy and application in midfield with the lead in the 22nd minute.

After Fleet mopped up a loose ball, he played a quick one-two with Giles who found the midfielder in uncharted territory on the edge of the area and he calmly finished across the keeper into the bottom corner for his second goal of the season.

The goal brought another level of confidence to the Hoops' attack and they doubled their advantage six minutes later.

Tommy Winters, the match winner from the previous week, found Louis with a neat through ball and the experienced striker found the inside of the far post to double the lead.

Cruising with a two-goal cushion, City continued to push forward without much resistance from their opponents, who sat four points below Oxford before play.

The second half began with the visitors looking livelier going forward and they finally tested new signing Ty Belford in the City goal.

Giles went close twice before finally finding the back of the net to secure all three points on the hour mark. Rather than aiming for the near post as he had twice before, the young winger instead shot across the keeper and found the bottom corner to make it 3-0.

With the game seemingly wrapped up, City showed no signs of sitting back, but as the game wore on, Bishop's Stortford had nothing left to lose and began to look more dangerous.

Their pressure, however, rarely looked like paying off.

But the visitors were finally rewarded in stoppage time as a long ball found Femi Akinwande free beyond the City defence with the simple task of sliding the ball beyond Belford.

Justin Merritt's side will be looking to maintain their winning run when they travel to 18th-placed Margate on Saturday afternoon.

Millers hit back from 2-0 down to win tie

NORTH Leigh completed a remarkable turnaround from 2-0 down after four minutes to make more cup history.

After playing in the FA Cup fourth qualifying round for the first time in their history, the Millers have ticked off another first by reaching the third qualifying round of the Buildbase FA Trophy.

It was a feeling of déjà vu as John Brough's side overcame Folkestone Invicta 3-2 away on Saturday.

Folkestone also fell victim to Leigh in the FA Cup when the West Oxfordshire side won 3-1, a major result for the club who sit a step below in the pyramid.

But Saturday's FA Trophy contest was not as easy.

The home side took an early lead in the second minute through Matt Woodley before Ian Draycott doubled their advantage on four minutes.

Looking dead and buried, the Millers were thrown a lifeline on the cusp of half-time when Lance Williams found the back of the net via a deflection.

George Seacole equalised on 72 minutes before the sensational comeback was completed 10 minutes later when Williams scored a second deflected goal to secure Leigh's passage into the next round.

The Millers will face Kingstonian of the Ryman Premier Division at Eynsham Park on November 26 after the Wimbledon-based club beat Tonbridge Angels 2-1 in Tuesday night's replay.

U's tamed by Shrews

• Safe hands? Simon Eastwood has only conceded 22 goals in 17 League One appearances, five of which have been clean sheets (Picture by Steve Daniels)

By George Welch

OXFORD United head coach Michael Appleton has admitted the U's are in a relegation 'dogfight' following Saturday's defeat at fellow strugglers Shrewsbury Town.

United were beaten 2-0 at the Greenhous Meadow to leave last year's SkyBet League Two runners up just one place and two points above the relegation zone.

A first half goal from AJ Leitch-Smith and a Shaun Whalley strike deep into second half injury time earned the Shrews all three points, meaning the Yellows have won just five games so far in League One and are winless in four league games.

Despite the club's poor form, they are only seven points off the play-offs and a single win could lift them up to mid-table.

But it was a day to forget for stand-in skipper Chris Maguire and his teammates, despite dominating large parts of the second half.

In particular, it was a day to forget for Oxford keeper Simon Eastwood – who has been solid between the sticks all season – as it was a clanger from the former Blackburn Rovers stopper that gifted the hosts the lead on 19 minutes.

A long punt forward from his opposite number, Mark Halstead, was flicked on by Ivan Toney into the path of Louis Dodds, whose 25-yard strike slipped through Eastwood's hands and onto the crossbar.

The goal lifted the home side and the U's were forced to defend. Eastwood atoned for the opening goal with two spectacular saves to deny Dodds.

United had a couple of half chances before the break when Joe Rothwell had a shot blocked before Kane Hemmings failed to provide the vital touch as a cross-shot flew past him, but the visitors' passing was well below the usual standards.

The second half was more of a contest and Hemmings set the tone.

An inviting cross from Liam Sercombe was met by the former Dundee striker but he could not beat Halstead, who made a smart save to thwart the front man's sixth goal of the season.

Sercombe decided to try his luck, twice going close with speculative efforts but, unfortunately for the travelling fans, he failed to work Halstead.

To add injury to insult, the former Exeter midfield maestro left the field on a stretcher on 96 minutes when he came off second best in a 50/50 challenge with Abu Ogogo.

And the result was confirmed moments later when the Shrews caught Oxford on the break as Whalley raced away for a late second to move the Shropshire side off the bottom.
